NEWS FROM THE MISSIONARIES ON THE FIELD

Dear Family of God,

We greet you in the Name of our God and Savior Jesus Christ, and we pray that this holiday season finds you growing in grace and prospering in all things in accordance with the will of God. He is good and His mercies endure forever.

Here at HeartCry we only have cause for rejoicing for our God continues to meet all our needs according to His riches in glory. We are also keenly aware that His blessings come to us through you and your enduring desire to be pleasing to Him. It cannot be overstated that we would be nothing and could do nothing if it was not for the grace of God manifested through you. Therefore, the fruit born out of this ministry is more yours than ours. We are debtors to the grace of God directly, and debtors to that same grace manifested to us through your lives and giving.

We are aware that the world is passing through some troubling economic times as a result of the greed of men flowing from their idolatrous hearts (Colossians 3:5). Nevertheless, those "who know their God will display strength and take action." (Daniel 11:32). Our continued concern for missions throughout the world during these uncertain times provides us with the opportunity to demonstrate that we possess more than a fair-weather faith. We labor and strive, because we have fixed our hope on the living God, who is the Savior of all men, especially of believers (I Timothy 4:10).

We are also aware of the possibility of radical changes in the government to which we have been called to submit. We must remember that very living being, every created thing, and all events of history are under the sovereign government of God. He rules over all things and no one, including man, is beyond the boundaries of His rule. As Creator and Sustainer, He has the exclusive and unchallenged right to govern all realms and all creatures according to His will and good pleasure. All that He desires, He does, and there is no power in heaven, earth, or hell that can alter or hinder what He has determined. It is a great comfort for the believer that God has set His King upon His holy mount. There will never be a changing of the guard. He will never be voted out, impeached, or removed by force. There will never be another administration to take His place or repeal His Law. Let all the world be shaken, but the hope of Zion remains steadfast. Though all the world of demons and men unite to fight against Him, it would have less effect than a single mite beating its head against a world of granite. Our God reigns!

"Why are the nations in an uproar And the peoples devising a vain thing? The kings of the earth take their stand and the rulers take counsel together against the LORD and against His Anointed, saying, 'Let us tear their fetters apart and cast away their cords from us!' He who sits in the heavens laughs, The Lord scoffs at them. Then He will speak to them in His anger and terrify them in His fury, saying, 'But as for Me, I have installed My King upon Zion, My holy mountain.'" Psalm 2:1-6

A Scandalous Gospel 13

The truths taught in this article are a radical departure from the contemporary belief that the Gospel should be "repackaged" to make it more relevant, accessible, and palatable to our contemporary, secular culture. The true Gospel of Jesus Christ is not only scandalous, but it is supposed to be!

HeartCry is a bi-monthly publication of the HeartCry Missionary Society offered free of charge to all supporters and inquirers, under the authority of the Elders and Congregation of the Grace Life Church of the Shoals, 1915 Avalon Avenue, Muscle Shoals, AL 35661

GIVING All donations sent to the HeartCry Missionary Society will generate a tax-deductible receipt.

Africa

Sean Reece

For the past year, we have planned to build our homes in the bush upon our immediate arrive to Zambia. However, in August, it became obvious that the Spirit was leading us to rethink this. It would be a great strain on our families to simultaneously adjust to life in Africa, build in the bush, and start the Lozi work. Therefore, we have now decided to stay in Livingstone a short but adequate time in order to properly adjust to our new surroundings. This will also enable us to build a strong relationship with the Trinity Baptist Church - the Zambian church in Livingstone that is partnering with us in the Lozi project. At the same time, we will be able to make frequent trips to the Lozi and gradually build our homes among them.

The postponing of the building project has also allowed us to move up our departure date and relocation to Africa. This change in the agenda coincides with Dr. Berry's and my impression when we traveled to Zambia in late August and returned with a heightened sense of urgency to begin the work. Therefore, we have kicked our moving plans into high gear. To our great joy, the Lord seems to be clearing a path through the red tape of visas and missionary work permits.

As now planned, my brother Shannon and I will spend most of January in Africa in order to secure housing and missionary work permits in Zambia. We will also seek to purchase and prepare our gear and vehicle in South Africa. We hope to return to Alabama in February for final packing, and then, with the Lord's help, our families will return to Africa with us in early March.

What a thrill it has been to watch God meet our needs so that we might take the Gospel to the Lozi. We are frequently left shaking our heads in amazement as He quickly and abundantly answers our requests. He sent a check for $2000 from a young family on the other side of the globe that arrived in a moment of discouragement. Another $2000 was sent by a small church in Missouri just as we needed to purchase camping gear. How encouraging it is to watch God fund His eternal purposes through weak "nobodies" and shame those in this world with the illusion of power and importance.

In the last two weeks, God has dramatically answered two needs. A dear friend in South Africa felt led of God to give us his Toyota Land Cruiser, thus saving us over $20,000! This same friend then used his personal discount to purchase our camping gear. He bought all three of our tents for the price of one!

There are many days when we are disgusted with our lack of faith and prayer. Yet, with the tiny faith of a mustard seed, we have cast ourselves on God as our only hope, and He has been faithful.

Asia

Matt Glass

Over the last several months the work in Asia has taken a dramatic turn. After much prayer and counsel, we have decide to curtail some of our work until God raises up a more competent and trustworthy leadership. We believe our work in Asia over the last several years has resulted in great blessing; however, we must hold to our conviction that we can only grow to the degree that we can work with an indigenous leadership that is sound in theology, doxology, and praxis (practice). We also believe that if such leadership is to be a reality in the remote places of Asia that we must become more heavily involved in the training of indigenous ministers of the Gospel.

In the following, the HeartCry regional directors provide you with a general and current overview of the progress of the Gospel in their respective region.

Australia

Holden Barry

The Lord has been pleased to bless us with a wonderful opportunity in Australia and the surrounding areas. In December of 2007, HeartCry donor Daniel Kissell and his family, who live in Australia, made contact with us through our website requesting a copy of the magazine. The Lord prompted and it was then discussed and agreed that we should send not one but multiple copies of our magazine to them for distribution among the various contacts that were interested in HeartCry. At first, we sent only 25 copies of our Oct.-Dec. 2007 issue. Subsequently, one year later, we are now sending about 200 copies of each issue (which is quickly becoming too small of an amount)!

In addition to the magazine, Brother Daniel and others have copied and distributed countless CDs and DVDs of various sermons from HeartCry. The Lord has blessed their efforts and expanded their distribution horizons throughout all of Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, and South Africa. All this is being done as a ministry 'on the side' by these brothers and sisters who support themselves with full-time jobs. Please pray for this work, that the Lord would use it to glorify His great Name, to encourage the saints, and to preach the Gospel to the lost.

Eastern Europe

Don Currin

The social and economic upheaval in Eastern Europe has had a profound effect on the people and culture. The depressed economy has resulted in an increased number of residents leaving their homes for Western Europe to improve their financial well-being. While some HeartCry missionaries have been profoundly affected by their move, their ministries continue to plod steadily along.

It has been a joy to receive an uninterrupted flow of testimonies about how God has shown Himself strong on behalf of our HeartCry family in Eastern Europe. In spite of high taxes and a rising cost of living resulting in privation, our brothers and sisters have been supernaturally sustained. Earlier this year, one of our missionaries from Moldova wrote:

"One evening when the children had the flu we decided to have a vapor inhalation. I remembered the way we did it when I was just a little child. We took a brick and made it very hot in the fire. We placed it under a table on which we had put a blanket and we poured tea on the brick and breathed the hot air. We did the same with the children. We even prayed under the table. My little son Felice prayed and thanked God for the day. When he finished, the other children whispered 'Amen'. Then he continued: 'Lord we thank You for the brick'."

Through all the difficulty, the Lord continues to be faithful. He is not only pruning the missionary work in Asia, but He is also pruning us here in the home office. Our decision to stand still and stand back instead of going forward at a rapid pace is very difficult, but the need to wait upon the Lord is evident to all.

We are full of hope and rejoice in the Lord's providence, and yet we need the wisdom that only the Holy Spirit through the Scriptures can impart. We have recently been acquainted with a good brother in South India with whom we may partner in some capacity in the future. He will be joining us for an upcoming conference at our church in February. Also, a team from HeartCry will be traveling to Indonesia in January to spend time with a church planting team working among the Sundanese Muslims. Please pray for open doors and wisdom to recognize the Lord's leading.

The church planting, discipleship, and university ministries continue to yield favor and fruit among the spiritually lost. Recent reports from our Gypsy brothers reveal an increase in evangelistic zeal and success as they have witnessed unusual responses to the scattering of Gospel seed among their people. Please pray that God's Spirit might fall upon Eastern Europe and that Christ's kingdom might be enlarged through the endeavors of our brethren. Also, pray that the economic dilemma would turn out to the furtherance of the Gospel.

Middle East

Marc Glass

Despite the volatility of the Middle East as a whole, the past year has basically been "business as usual" for our missionaries. Currently, we are speaking with and praying about supporting three more men in this region: two in Lebanon and one in Jordan. Pray that the Lord would give us wisdom as we seek to more effectively partner with and equip these dear brothers in the Middle East.

In Israel, Antony S. has had quite a busy year, hosting two lengthy evangelistic campaigns. One of the great blessings with the work in Israel is that all three of our missionaries, Antony S., Michael K, and Leonid B., are able to fellowship and work together in the ministry. Israel is not a very large place and these brothers live within close proximity to one another. The thrust of their evangelistic efforts has been twofold. First, they have sponsored newspaper, radio, and poster ads that advertise a free film on born-again Holocaust survivors and a free film on the true meaning of the Passover. Whenever someone responds to their ad, the films are personally delivered to the addressee along with other literature and a New Testament. The people's names are also entered into a database for further follow-up. Secondly, the three missionaries have spent a great deal of time on the streets, handing out literature and speaking with people about Jesus Christ. Pray for their efforts. Israel can be a difficult place to live and minister.

In Lebanon, Walid B. has also been very busy handing out Bibles on the streets. Throughout most of the year, he and his co-laborers have primarily concentrated on evangelism in Beirut. However, in the last several months they have sensed the great need to plant a church in the southern city of Tyre. They already have a good core group made up of one Lebanese family, a brother from Holland, and a Unifil soldier from Zambia. Amazingly, the Zambian brother just happens to be from HeartCry's sister church in Lusaka, Kabwata Baptist Church. Please pray for them. On November 16 they held their first meeting as the Tyre Reformed Baptist Church.

South America

Paul Washer

Nearly two years ago the work in Peru took a dramatic turn for the better. In our first theological conference in many years in the city of Lima, we focused on the nature of the Gospel and the biblical call of sinners to repentance and faith in Jesus Christ. We also critiqued the superficial evangelism of the age and compared it to that of the Scriptures and of our Christian forefathers. Finally, we also examined the modern methods of dealing with the souls of men and taught on the doctrine of biblical assurance. To our surprise, the result was immediate and astounding. Many pastors broke out in tears. Others publicly declared that they must return to their congregations and re-evangelize them.

This work which began in Peru less than two years ago is now overflowing into many of the surrounding countries of South America and even to Spain itself. In recent months, the CDs and DVDs from our conferences have made their way into several different Hispanic countries and into the Hispanic population in the United States and Europe. As a result, we have received invitations for similar conferences in Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Mexico, and Spain.

Please pray that the Lord might grant us wisdom to fulfill our duties, strength to bear the burden, and grace to either shield us from the enemy or enable us to resist him. We are always needy of grace on all accounts.

U.S. Office

Dr. Nathan Berry

This year God has bestowed many blessings on all of us here at HeartCry. The entire staff can thank God for good health and for His abundant grace to address issues throughout the world.

Regarding the finances, all of us here at the U.S. office have been overwhelmed by the liberality of support even during our current financial crisis in the United States. Throughout this year we have seen an increase in overall donations in spite of the global economic uncertainty.

God has seen fit to provide needed additional funds for projects both here in the U.S. and on foreign soil. Although we have seen an increase in individual needs in most parts of the world, God has been faithful to meet every need according to His riches in glory.

Finally, God has also abundantly provided in adding to our staff: Ben Berry in the graphics department, Shannon Ayers as Director of Donor Relations, and Sean Reece and Shannon Reece as cross cultural missionaries to the unreached Lozi people. God also answered another prayer for our home office in bringing Jon Green back from England.

Overall this year has been full of blessings from God through the generous giving of devoted donors. We thank our Lord for the privilege of serving alongside His people throughout the world. Please pray for all of us that we might seek to be more faithful in our service and stewardship for the coming year.

SCANDALOUS GOSPEL

By Paul David Washer

"For I am not ashamed of the Gospel for it is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek."

Romans 1:16

Paul's flesh had every reason to be ashamed of the Gospel he preached because it contradicted absolutely everything that was held to be true and sacred among his contemporaries. To the Jew, the Gospel was the worst sort of blasphemy because it claimed that the Nazarene who died accursed on Calvary was the Messiah. To the Greeks, it was the worst sort of absurdity because it claimed that this Jewish Messiah was God in the flesh. Thus Paul knew that whenever he opened his mouth to speak the Gospel he would be utterly rejected and ridiculed to scorn unless the Holy Spirit intervened and moved upon the hearts and minds of his hearers. In our day, the primitive Gospel is no less offensive, for it still contradicts every tenet or "ism" of contemporary culture - relativism, pluralism, and humanism.

It's Not All Relative

We live in an age of Relativism - a belief system based upon the absolute certainty that there are no absolutes. We hypocritically applaud men for seeking the truth, but call for the public execution of anyone arrogant enough to believe he has found it. We live in a self-imposed Dark Age, the reason for which is clear. Natural man is a fallen creature, morally corrupt, and hell-bent on autonomy (i.e. self-government). He hates God because He is righteous and hates His laws because they censure and restrict his evil. He hates the truth because it exposes him for what he is and troubles what still remains of his conscience. Therefore, fallen man seeks to push truth, especially the truth about God, as far from him as possible. He will go to any extent to suppress the truth; even to the point of pretending that no such thing exists or that if it does exist, it cannot be known or have any bearing on our lives. It is never the case of a hiding God but a hiding man. The problem is not the intellect but the will. Like a man who hides his head in the sand to avoid a charging rhino, modern man denies the truth of a righteous God and His moral absolutes in hopes of quieting his conscience and putting out of mind the judgment he knows to be inevitable. The Christian Gospel is a scandal to man and his culture because it does the one thing he most wants to avoid - It awakens him from his self-imposed slumber to the reality of his fallenness and rebellion, and calls for him to reject autonomy and submit to God through repentance and faith in Jesus Christ.

Everyone's Not Right

We live in an age of Pluralism - a belief system that puts an end to truth by declaring everything to be true, especially with regard to religion. It may be difficult for the contemporary Christian to comprehend, but the Christians living in the first few centuries of the faith were actually marked and persecuted as atheists. The culture surrounding them was immersed in theism. The world was filled with images of deities, and religion was a booming business. Men not only tolerated one another's deities but also swapped and shared them. The entire religious world was going along just fine until the Christians showed up and declared that, “gods made with hands are no gods at all.” They denied the Caesars the homage they demanded, refused to bend the knee to all other so-called gods, and confessed Jesus alone as Lord of all. The entire world looked on such jaw-dropping arrogance and reacted with fury against the Christian’s intolerable intolerance to tolerance.

This same scenario abounds in our world today. Against all logic, we are told that all views regarding religion and morality are true, no matter how radically different and contradictory they may be. The most overwhelming aspect of all this is that through the tireless efforts of the media and the academic world, this has quickly become the majority view. Nevertheless, pluralism does not address the issue or cure the malady. It only anesthetizes the patient so that he no longer feels or thinks. The Gospel is a scandal because it awakens man from his slumber and refuses to let him rest on such an illogical footing. It forces him to come to some conclusion – “How long will you hesitate between two opinions? If the LORD is God, follow Him; but if Baal, follow him.”

The true Gospel is radically exclusive. Jesus is not “a” way, but “the” way, and all other ways are no way at all. If Christianity would only move one small step toward a more tolerant ecumenicalism and change the definite article “the” for the indefinite article “a”, the scandal would be removed, and the world and Christianity could become friends. However, whenever this occurs, Christianity ceases to be Christianity, Christ is denied, and the world is without a Savior.

Man Is Not The Measure

We live in an age of Humanism. Over the last several decades, man has fought to purge God from his conscience and culture. He has torn down every visible altar to the “One True God” and has erected monuments to himself with the zeal of a religious fanatic. He has managed to make Himself the center, measure, and end of all things. He praises his inherent worth, demands homage to his self-esteem, and promotes his own self-fulfillment or self-realization as the greatest good. He explains away his gnawing conscience as the remnants of an antiquated religion of guilt, and he excuses himself from any responsibility for the moral chaos surrounding him by blaming society, or at least that part of society that has not yet attained to his enlightenment. Any suggestion that his conscience might be right in its testimony against him or that he might be responsible for the almost infinite variations of maladies in the world is unthinkable. For this reason, the Gospel is a scandal to fallen man because it exposes his delusion about himself and convicts him of his fallenness and guilt. This is the essential “first work” of the Gospel, and this is why the world so loathes true Gospel preaching. It ruins man’s party, rains on his parade, exposes his make-believe, and points out that the emperor has no clothes.

The Scriptures recognize that the Gospel of Jesus Christ is a “stumbling block” and “foolishness” to all men of every age and culture. However, to seek to remove the scandal from the message is to make void the cross of Christ and its saving power. We must understand that the Gospel is not only scandalous, but it is supposed to be! Through the foolishness of the Gospel, God has ordained to destroy the wisdom of the wise, frustrate the intelligence of the greatest minds, and humble the pride of all men. To the end that no flesh may boast in His presence, but just as it is written, “Let him who boasts, boast in the Lord.”

Paul’s Gospel not only contradicted the religion, philosophy, and culture of the day, but it declared war on them. It refused truce or treaty with the world and would settle for nothing less than culture’s absolute surrender to the Lordship of Jesus Christ. We would do well to follow Paul’s example. We must be careful to shun every temptation to conform our Gospel to the trends of the day or the desires of carnal men. We have no right to water down its offense or civilize its radical demands in order to make it more appealing to a fallen world or carnal church members. Our churches are filled with strategies to make them more seeker-friendly by repackaging the Gospel, removing the stumbling block, and taking the edge off the blade, so that it might be more acceptable to carnal men. We ought to be seeker-friendly, but we ought to realize this - there is only One seeker and He is God. If we are striving to make our church and message accommodating, let us make them accommodating to Him. If we are striving to build a church or ministry, let us build it upon a passion to glorify God, and a desire not to offend His majesty. To the wind with what the world thinks about us. We are not to seek the honors of earth, but the honor of heaven should be our desire.

Reports from the Field

Asia

Willinliu N.

Below is the most recent field report from Willinliu N. Because of the terrible persecution in the country where she works, we can only say that she is serving in South Asia. We hope her brief testimony will be an encouragement to you.

Thank you so much for your great concern for me and my ministry. I am now fully convinced that the Lord will make a way for me by His grace and through your prayer support,

The dear Mrs. Bobby has decided to become a true Christian. The dear Mrs. Purnima and her family are now aware that Christ died for sinners like us and they all show a great eagerness to learn more about the Gospel. Three families in Phue—, one family in Pas—, and another three families is Kho— are very much interested in knowing more about the Gospel. Mr. Bishnu has now come to realize the beauty of Christianity.

I will tell you about one of the events that has been the remarkable for me. Mr. Vivek invited us to visit his sister Sushma who had been suffering from an unknown disease. After we arrived, we sat down and prayed for her and there was an immediate sign of improvement. The whole household was happy with the miracle of the Lord.

I also praise God for He has blessed me with another eight sisters on the border of Sub--- Pal-. I continue to visit them and they are interested in attending the fellowship held in my room on Saturday evening (there are now 6-8 persons who attended every week). Moreover, our Sunday fellowship in Phu----- is also going in full swing. Let us continue to pray that God might expand our field beyond our measures and that the believers in every place might increase.

East ern Europe

*Marian Nae

With other people in our church, I was invited to Mogosoaia where we attended a baptismal service. There were many people who came to see the baptism of a family that took place in a nearby river.

One week later we were invited to Rosiori de Vede by missionary Sorin Iordan. While we were there, we went to the house of a very rich family who had returned to the Lord after a miracle done by God with their 10 years-old boy. This child was paralysed. He could not see nor hear nor speak, but our Lord Jesus Christ touched the little body and healed him. Thus all the family came to know the Lord. When we arrived in their house, we saw that they had invited all their relatives to hear the Gospel. There were two persons who made professions of faith in the Lord that night and we prayed for them. That night we stayed until midnight rejoicing in the fellowship. I was back home at 3 o'clock in the morning. We were so glad to hear and see the wonderful works of God.

*Marian Toma
Romanian Gypsies*

We had an open air program, in the yard of the church. There were more than 100 people who attend the event and many more heard the Word of God due to the amplification system. Many people were touched by the Word of God. The Mayor had never attended such a meeting. He made a small speech and afterwards we prayed for God's blessing upon him. He was so touched that he could not stop his tears from falling from his eyes.

The following day, the mayor visited our church building and congratulated us for unity and organization. He promised us we will be connected to the gas network. He promised to provide us the central heating and also he will help us with all the installation. Praise God for this man after God's heart. May the Lord bless him.

Free Magazine

The HeartCry Missionary Society publishes a quarterly magazine free of charge to all who request it. The primary purpose of our magazine is to share something of the great work that God is doing in the world through indigenous missions.

In our publication, we share more than mission statistics but provide personal testimonies and reports from the field that let the reader see something of the heart of the missionaries and the struggles they endure for the sake of the Name. We do all this with the goal of encouraging believers in the West to turn away from the vanities of this world, follow hard after Christ, and give themselves to the fulfillment of the Great Commission in the world. Remember: We are called to either go down in the well or hold the rope for those who go down!
